Dear Public Works Commission members,

I have just heard that Redondo is going to be getting a new park (yaaay!).

i've also heard that you are planning to call it Herondo Park.

May I respectfully suggest that instead, this park be named Bill Brand (Nature) Park, in honor of our late Mayor?

Bill Brand did so very much to support keeping and expanding open spaces in this city; this would seem a truly fitting way to commemorate his contributions to Redondo Beach thru the years.

Unless, of course, you are considering something even bigger and more grand with his name...!

Thank you for your consideration.
