

Safety meeting – December 16, 2024

My last meeting here I alerted you that us residence received a response from the police department that stated,

"This intersection does not appear to present a major traffic-related concern"

After that I started documenting the safety issues by filing them to the Police Services - Traffic Safety and Enforcement portal.

Since that time I reported the following.

Red Light runners = 471 out of 7 posts

Truck traffic = 551 out of 5 posts.

Wanna be drag racers at the intersection = 834 out of 19 posts (and many more).

You may be aware of the accident at the intersection on December 11th.

My understanding is that a pickup truck ran a red light and smashed into a car making a left turn onto prospect.

So in the past several months we had a neighbor getting knocked out crossing the intersection.

My next door neighbor almost got run over and killed by a car that lost control and clipped off the fire hydrant

And then this accident last Wednesday.
I think there was even a fender bender in between

In Conclusion

It is very clear that the trucks ignore all posted signage.

That hundreds of cars and trucks challenge beating the red light and go through it.

That hundreds of cars, motorcycles and trucks race through the intersection.

By Toni's reports, that dozens of vehicles go through the stop signs.

So we hardly think you can say that there are no major traffic issues at the intersection.

So what is the solution?

We residence believe we need some sort of

- Traffic calming solutions = roundabout, pylons, bike lanes etc.
- Illegal truck traffic eliminated.
- More Police patrolling at the stop signs and maybe just hanging out at the intersection periodically to calm traffic as well as ticketing.

Almost more than likely, a combination of both.

CROSSING GUARDS

I sometimes go across the street and talk to Bill.

Bill is the school crossing guard. He has horror stories to tell about the traffic at the intersection while he is there for an hour in the morning and an hour in the evening.

Yesterday he said a car must have been going down the street "100 MPH".

Although I do not know her name, the crossing guard at Tuliita school pretty much has the same stories about cars speeding in a school zone and not stopping at the stop sign.

So yesterday during the afternoon hour when Bill was there between 1:50 and 2:50 PM, I hung out with Bill with my radar gun. Simultaneously, I had my video camera pointed at the corner.

While I was sitting there a resident came by walking her dog and was telling me how scared she is to cross the intersection. And just as she was trying to cross, a car went through the red light.

At completion of the hour, here are the statistics.

Cars going between 31-35 = 7

Cars going between 46-40 = 27

Cars going between 41+ = 7

Tulita school is 645' 11" from corner to corner so PVB falls into the "school zone" speed limit of 25 MPH.

18 cars went through the red light. Considering half the time vehicles are stopped for the light, the figure is for like half an hour.

In addition, numerous large box trucks went through the crossing. In one instance, one was passing the intersection on PVB while another one was waiting to enter from Prospect Blvd.

This intersection is completely out of control!

Chief Hoffman,

Someone shared with me your post about the truck route issues and your Traffic Unit making stops the other morning.

We residents too, applaud the traffic unit and appreciate what they do/did.

However, I question whether anyone really knows the magnitude of the truck issue? I do not believe so because there does not appear to be any "serious" attempt at curbing it.

We have taken video of over 7 days worth of truck traffic in what I call "the corridor". That is PVB from PCH to Sepulveda and Prospect from PCH to Camino Real.

In the corridor, there are approximately 125 residents that line these streets.

The videos revealed that there is an average of about 130 tractor trailers and big box delivery trucks amongst a mix of cement and dump trucks on "average" daily. That's 650 during the 5 day week and 2,600 for the month. Add in the weekends and I am sure it totals at least 3,000.

Those 125 of us that live at a stop sign have to listen to the squeaky brakes every time they stop and to their loud engines working and struggling to take off if they have a full load.

My wife Joyce and I are at the intersection of PVB and Prospect which is ground zero. We and 3 other residents get them in all four directions.

From my kitchen window to PVB is approximately 30 feet. Since it is a traffic light, they are not stopping every time but there are a good portion that do. When they do, my blood pressure shoots up from the noise they make stopping and starting.

The reason I am writing is because today it went over the top. A car carrier tractor trailer stopped at the red light and made the most horrendous noise from its breaks and what not.

As it sat there and idled I ran out real quick and video recorded it as it made a left turn onto Prospect. Again, emitting very loud noise. Oh, and notice there is a big box truck right next to it displaying the congestion these trucks are causing on the corridor which is getting worse.

Attached is the video clip of the tractor trailer. I ask that you play it with your volume up so you can feel the pain that us residents do, not just a few times a day but all day long.

We hope to see your Traffic Unit in the corridor much more often.

For the neighbors of the corridor,
John Perchulyn

Comments from Next Door about the accident and the intersection and emails from other residence

Stephen Robinson

Wouldn't surprise me. I haven't had one day go by since Halloween where someone didn't run a red light in front of me.

Aron Angel

The worst intersection! I always slow way down in my mini but the teslas and trucks speed right around me

John

Something needs to change there! Put patrol cars at the intersection (even if no one is in them), signs "Approaching Red Light", a longer amount of time between the light turning red and opposite traffic turning green....

Speed bumps to slow people down before the intersection?

All of the above?

Good to know. I haven't noticed that intersection being that bad, but I believe you.

Same with Lomita Blvd and Anza!

Stephen

Same here EVERYDAY! I can't believe it!

Linda Artiano

I agree about so many more cars running red lights. Can each of us honk at drivers who run red lights to remind them they need to be more careful for their safety and ours?

Linda Artiano

There ARE a lot - but I have noticed that when I do honk, the driver actually slows down about 75% of the time. I think that trying something to make it safer for ourselves and family is worth trying.

Stephen

I've almost been t boned by people running the red on Calle mayor and Carlow. It's definitely getting out of hand.

The worst intersection! I always slow way down in my mini but the teslas and trucks speed right around me this was my mother. She broke her neck but is alive. Does anyone have video footage or information on the car that hit her?

John

Asa K.

That intersection is cursed. Constant horrific accidents with both car vs car & car vs pedestrian. Hope everyone is ok

Asa

The Intersection is not cursed. Just a lot of drivers that don't follow the rules of the road. Until the laws change and people see that bad drivers are properly punished... the drivers will continue ignoring the laws.

Tina Taylor

People zoom down PV Blvd. Accidents will continue because the city won't want to put in another stoplight or lower speed limits.

Veeda Davis

How very frightening and so sad I'm praying for all who was involved in this horrible looking accident. My prayers are with them all.

I have almost been rear-ended because I actually slow down to stop for a yellow light.

Trina Taylor

People zoom down PV Blvd. Accidents will continue because the city won't want to put in another stoplight or lower speed limits.

Irina

THE RBPB did a 3 week study of traffic and speeds on PVB and Prospect Ave. Their conclusion, using the 85 percentile formula, they determine there are no speeding issues. We disputed the findings and requested to meet with them but they denied us such a meeting.

Lisa Riera

I'm confused. I somehow thought they represented the people. How are they allowed to blow you off so

Natalie Goldfield

I've never seen them doing any testing at the intersection of Knob Hill and Prospect and I've seen quite a few accidents at that intersection too.

Judy Koffroth

We live on Ave. A just south of Knob Hill. You are so right plus crazy speeders.

The city speed checker was in front of my house for a while. I noticed speeds were often slower than I expected. I had to watch for a while because when one car was slow, every single car behind was slow, so I had to wait for the next group. I eventually deduced that cars that were measurably speeding often had three things in common: a green light way in advance, no cars in front of them, and not planning to turn. It makes sense: a red light slows everyone down, as does turning, characteristics of perhaps 75% of the traffic heading south on prospect.

Every time my light turns green I pause and look both ways. Saved me once on my motorcycle.

I'm all for the red light cameras at some of our major intersections. I too see people go through red lights, even a school bus. Maybe the hefty fines will get them to stop.

Lana Speer

When the light turns green for me I now make it a game counting how many red light runners go through. The other day, I counted six red light runners at the intersection of Sepulveda and Hawthorne Blvd.

Robert Styles

The cities patrol the danger area soon after a dangerous incident- to avoid a lawsuit because of a dangerous location like that. If a city ignores your notification that a serious problem is ongoing, and don't respond (usually by placing an officer at the intersection soon after the incident for a specific amount of time) then the city is open to a lawsuit if something happens again at that location. Look it up, usually jurisdictions are doing the minimum when it reacts to major crashes. In Hermosa Beach when a 12 year old was killed in a crosswalk, after visiting a pet store to visit the puppies on his scooter- a traffic signal was placed at that intersection (16th street and PCH) Each city has numerous units to keep an eye on how people are driving, yet seldom use them- not wanting to upset the locals Good luck and be careful because others are not and are being allowed to carry on as they have been.

Donya Mackay

Thanks John. My mom hasn't been able to answer on if she or the police were able to catch the information on the person that hit her. Doing what I can in the meantime until I hear more. This sounds like an extremely dangerous intersection, how many people need to get hurt before it is addressed!

Donya Mackay

Thanks so much. If police already have eye witness accounts I should be able to get that from them. I am in San Diego and am stuck getting information from various family until I can drive back up tonight so I'm naturally freaking out a bit not having all the information on my mom and what happened. Having this kind of situation at a school crossing is unacceptable on top of everything. At the very least they need to do a simple timer on the lights to delay the green from the red! That is simple and inexpensive for the city and could stop a lot of this!

Donya Mackay

Thanks John. I haven't even been able to get the information of the man that hit her out of the rbpd yet. We've hired a lawyer to assist as this guy is running free while my mom can barely move and yet they won't even give us his basic information. Joke.

Aaron

Hey John! My name is Aaron and I received one of your letters regarding the issues with the "corridor". I agree with your concerns as my family has witnessed several instances of near misses, high rates of speed, and other unsafe traffic violations. I do think that RBPd is aware of the situation as they had several police motorcycle units set up on Monday morning with a speed trap. The problem is that they only do this once in a very long time and not on the weekends when non RB residents flood our streets. I recommend sending out another letter with the next city council meeting date. If we have a large show of residents, it may help with the situation.

Hello neighbor. Received your letter regarding "The Corridor".
You have my full support.

Hello!

My husband and I received your letter concerning traffic safety along the "corridor."

We're also concerned about the speed, stop sign negligence, and acceleration issues on our corner of S. Helberta Ave and PV Blvd.

Let us know how we can support.

Thanks for reaching out!

Anne Marcus

I constantly see people running a full red light! It's crazy. Not even yellow changing to red.
