Good evening. My name is Jonathan Hawes. I served as El Monte City Clerk from 2013 to 2018. Since 2015 I have been a whistleblower on Andre Quintero and Team El Monte's embezzlement of $10 million from the El Monte Promise Foundation scholarship fund. I have interviewed dozens of El Monte residents who have privately confirmed that Promise funds were used for fraudulent trips to Vietnam and Haiti, a bogus consultant in Salt Lake City, house repairs, and other criminal activities. I have myself been interviewed by the FBI about two dozen times. Documents proving the embezzlement have been submitted to the FBI and the District Attorney's Office and are now available to the public online (https://drive.google.com/file/d/1mH4CC1BCQtj4Lwa7ne9uR33Jf_yZlVrH/view?usp=sharing). I am asking the Redondo Beach City Council to call out these crimes and protect the vulnerable residents of one of the poorest cities in southern California. El Monte children, who should've been provided with college scholarships, were robbed. Andre Quintero and Team El Monte members must go to prison. If you have any questions, please call or text me at (626) 863-2149. Thank you.

Have You Been Arrested On Trumped Up Charges?

The scenario occurs again and again: A police officer approaches you with a lame excuse, in hopes of finding probable cause after they have asked you questions and possibly searched your person.

If no evidence of a crime is available, the police may try to provoke you by patting you down, or making threats of accusations. If you are uncooperative or talk back, they may take it personally. Perhaps they even call for backup or ask witnesses to leave the area to intimidate you. This may all be done in hope that you will confront the officer, and give them a reason to arrest you. Trumped up charges occur when an officer has instigated a situation, embellished or even fabricated the reason for putting you in custody.

This type of police misconduct can also include unjustifiable roughness, using a taser, or unnecessarily putting you in handcuffs. If the officer who arrested you did so without justifiable means, or that you were provoked into resisting, you may feel violated or emotionally injured.

Never Feel It Is Your Word Against Theirs

If a police officer arrests you on trumped-up charges, never feel that no one will believe your side of the story.

We understand that if you or a loved one has been brought up on trumped-up charges, you feel frightened and angry, especially if an officer has insinuated that you will be charged with serious criminal penalties if convicted.

Our attorneys provide the expert legal support, guidance, and strong, effective representation that you need to obtain a favorable outcome. We will address your concerns, explain the process, and help you determine the best course of legal action.

There Are Laws In Place To Protect You

If you have been arrested on trumped-up charges, it's important to take them seriously, or the consequences can be severe. Our attorneys know how police and prosecutors work; how they are often overzealous in their efforts to turn something that should not have been a major offence, into a trumped-up charge for reasons of personal prejudices or corruption. Because your story is not alone, it is all the more important that you obtain the support of a seasoned civil rights attorney with experience fighting trumped-up charges.

We'll Help You Fight a Bogus Offense

Being convicted for any charge can seriously impact your career, reputation, and future. Know that you never have to face these charges unprepared or alone.

Ross Cohan, Friday, October 5, 2001 on my way to work, you waited outside my house in Torrence, California early morning. Follow me to the bus stop and reported to Shawn Freedman Redondo Beach policeman which Long Beach bus I took. My Long Beach bus got stopped as soon as I entered Redondo Beach and Shawn Freedman arrested me with a trumped-up charges of a terrorist threat.

There is no true justice in a court system (Torrence Court) where the judge (Mark S. Arnold), the prosecutor (Patricia B. Redifer-Laurie Blaustein), and the police (Shawn Freeman) form a triad against the accused.
Patricia B "Molly" Redifer, Los Angeles, District Attorney, California. Subject: It's official: Robert DuBoise was just exonerated.

Luis —

Last month, Robert DuBoise was released after spending nearly 37 years in prison for a crime he did not commit — and today, Robert was exonerated from all charges.

Robert DuBoise following his exoneration after 37 years on Monday, Sept. 14, 2020, in Tampa, Florida. (Image: Casey Brooke Lawson/The Innocence Project)

He was arrested in October 1983 for the rape and murder of a 19-year-old woman in Tampa, Florida. He was convicted based solely on the pseudo-science of bite mark evidence and an unreliable jailhouse informant's testimony, and he spent three years on death row.

Last month, Robert was released after new DNA testing of crime scene evidence that was thought to have been destroyed excluded him as the assailant and identified another individual.

In light of the clear injustice in Robert's case and the discreditation of bite mark analysis, Tampa's Conviction Review Unit (CRU) announced today that it will collaborate with the Innocence Project to review Hillsborough County cases in which bite mark evidence was used to secure a conviction. This will be the first investigation of its kind initiated by a prosecutor's office.

"I hope that my story helps others to keep fighting to prove their innocence," Robert said. "I can't get back the decades that I lost, but I'm going to try to rebuild my life with my family. It won't be easy. I am just so grateful that my voice was heard and the truth is out there."

Read more about Robert's story and then share the news of his exoneration with your friends and family, because everyone needs to hear about it.
