Councilmember Emdee noted a concern is becoming a magnet once opened but said there would be some kind of rule that has a connection to Redondo Beach.

City Attorney Webb said going forward, trading could take place with what works.

Councilmember Emdee asked about wraparound services. City Attorney Webb said there will be 24/7 resident aid available, addiction and mental health counseling. He noted a path to enforcement and said most of the homeless are individuals and will be small and only meals will be provided to the residents of the property.

Councilmember Emdee asked about mistakes made from Venice.

Lila Omura spoke on the following:

- Venice larger crisis bridge unit
- Same model as in San Pedro
- Concerns in Venice – new homeless encampment popped up on the same block as the large crisis bridge housing development
- Not operating at capacity
- San Pedro Beacon Street Crisis Bridge Housing – no encampments – open since July
- LAPD – cuts in funding

Councilmember Emdee supported a multi-prong approach and putting in ordinances that can be defended and help enforcement/mitigate any problems.

Councilmember Gran supported being on a path to allow for enforcement and being tied with homeless court. He suggested looking at projects to allow for changes and supported being able to shut it down if necessary, looking at different site options. He also noted a number of items that have to be worked on together, no one wants this in their neighborhood, suggested looking at a pilot program addressing issues quickly and finding the best solution for a temporary housing shelter, and getting past the fact that people don't want it near them.

Councilmember Gran also suggested considering the Seaside Lagoon site which will be locked down with COVID at least until March, the facility is ready to go, there are no homes in the vicinity, there is a bus line available, the homeless court is within walking distance, there are no businesses in the immediate vicinity, restaurants are in the process of closing, people will be kept behind the closed gates, the facility is already fenced and has bathrooms, expansion could take place, can be used four to five months before the normal time the Lagoon will open up, the City knows the area, do as a pilot, could move to Kingsdale, and could be looked at as a stepped approach.

Councilmember Loewenstein suggested an ordinance to keep camping a certain distance from residential areas. City Attorney Webb said this could become restricted, forcing it into certain pockets within the City, leading to lawsuits and unintended consequences, but it can be reviewed.

In response to Councilmember Loewenstein, City Attorney Webb stated people in the pallet housing have to work with the housing advisor. He also said the difficulty has been getting people housing ready.

Councilmember Loewenstein noted an issue at Seaside Lagoon to include a number of houses in the area along with residents on their boats, businesses being nearby, and being near the hotels. He read a letter regarding homeless impacts and a loss of revenue from the surrounding hotels if the homeless encampment were put in the area. He also did not support Aviation Park as well and believed the only option is the Kingsdale location. He also expressed concern with impacts to the residents and supported privacy.

Councilmember Gran also said there are a number of residents equally opposed to the Kingsdale location and believed the Seaside Lagoon may be the best location for now.

Councilmember Nehrenheim suggested having 5 or 6 campers allowed to bring in their own equipment in addition to the 15 people in the shelters. City Attorney Webb said storage will have to be provided when going to homeless court. He also spoke on the meals provided but aired on the side of keeping the homeless inside as much as possible. He also spoke on a location in the Coastal Zone, and said a motion is needed for which site to allow for documents to be prepared.

Councilmember Emdee did not think Council will come up with a consensus on a location, reviewed her concerns and believed one should be located in both districts.

Motion by Councilmember Horvath, seconded by Councilmember Emdee, to receive and file and waive the reading of the comments via eComment. Motion carried unanimously, with the following roll call vote:

AYES: Nehrenheim, Loewenstein, Horvath, Gran, Emdee

NOES: None

ABSENT: None

Mayor Brand called for public comment via Zoom and eComment.

Brian Novak questioned what happens with overflow conversations and how are they accounted for, and recommended looking to solve the problem, creating mechanisms to give an exact prescription for an exact need in the facilities. He also said buffer zones are key for the overflow.

Kim Isaacs supported the unhoused people who need a place to live and said she would be in support of living near them and helping them.

Janelle Scales supported the unhoused community and being protected from the residents and her children helping them.

Tony Hart, Lanakila Outrigger Canoe Club on Mole B, stated any facility in the area would have to be taken down in case of an emergency, access would be needed for the emergency vehicles, and the Coastal Commission may require a boat ramp as well.

Scott Behrendt thanked staff for their help on this issue, referred to the Bellflower shelter and enforcement of the camping ordinance, stated residency restrictions are essential to its success, Whittier shelter also has a residency requirement and camping ordinance, and stated San Clemente's homeless population decreased dramatically after the introduction of a designated camping spot. He suggested combining a designated camping site or place restrictions on camping, and a Coastal Development Permit could be considered.

John Calcagnini agreed with Councilmember Gran regarding using the Seaside Lagoon, stated a lot of the homeless population is already residing near the pier, the location is not near neighborhoods and there are bus lines. He also said the hotel industry has not been affected in Santa Monica and the Moonstone Park is a similar proximity. He also referred to the Venice example and said building shelters draw more of a problem with more loitering and warned not rushing into this item.

Sabrina Kiser supported the unhoused neighbors and noted the City is dense and it is difficult to find a good location. She also expressed concern with sending people back into the streets when they have been sheltered. She further said it is difficult to move the unhoused from city to city, noted people complaining about the homeless and said this is a chance to do something about it.

Lee Coller, Redondo Beach, stated he has a boat in the marina and opposed placing a shelter at Seaside Lagoon or Mole B. He said there is a park currently and putting in a homeless shelter would remove it. He also believed a shelter in that location would not be consistent with the Coastal Commission and pointed out that Moonstone Park is an emergency helicopter pad.

Phillip Jay stated he has been a boatowner in the King Harbor since the 1960's and opposed the project being located at Moonstone Park, supported Council's thoughtful approach, and said the project needs to be in the correct location. He said the harbor is the center of the City and proposing a homeless encampment in a park is a step in the wrong direction. He noted the park gets a lot of use and a homeless shelter would be incompatible with the area and recreational uses and did not support taking a park away from the citizens.

Zein Obagi, Jr. commended the Council and staff for helping with this issue but did not support rushing into it. He suggested bringing in the homeless officer as described in the citizens academy, and questioned if people would use the shelters, or attracting more than the City can handle.

Ronson Chu, Flagler and Clark, thanked Council for taking on this issue, supported having courage and helping homeless neighbors, offered a tour on other sites which blend into the community, and referred to the Venice example and San Pedro site which do not cause a problem.

Jeff Busch did not support rushing into this and did not see a clear plan or measurable goal. He suggested starting with a goal and working backwards.

Jodi Masters supported the unhoused population and did not see a safety issue, supported having a goal, supported creating a model we can all be proud of, stated the project is not going away and is a good opportunity.

Mark Hansen requested rejecting Moonstone Park and the Seaside Lagoon as potential sites for homeless shelters which are on the State Tidelands with an obligation to encourage low cost recreational boating. He also said the shelters would negatively impact numerous slip tenants. He said the breakwater and homeless shelters would increase injuries and drug use and the marine weather would encourage congregation inside the small shelters encouraging the spread of COVID 19. He said the waterfront is a crown jewel in the City and expressed concern with impacts to the businesses and the Master Plan, new boat ramp, and suggested using the expertise of the Harbor Commission and Recreation and Parks Commissions before going forward with any decisions.

Michael Garlan, District 3, suggested reading the comments in eComment and supported including everyone's input. He suggested looking for a suitable location outside of the City such as unused parking spaces at the Harbor Gateway Transit Center. He also said homeless problems are a regional issue.

Robbie Yrigoyen suggested more time to avoid lawsuits and to find the right location. She also said the harbor and Moonstone park is a family area and is not the place for people with a possible drug addiction. She supported helping the homeless but agreed the waterfront is not the right location. She also said there are many vacant facilities and rehab facilities that have infrastructure in place and willing to help.

Dennis Oellers stated he has a liveaboard in the harbor and did not support a homeless site 100 yards from his home. He also stated the area needs to get revived rather than having a blight in the middle of the harbor. He also said many of the homeless bring in dangerous conditions and suggested helping them such as at a facility.

There being no further comments, Mayor Brand closed the public comment period.

Councilmember Horvath noted rushing concerns and advised people to look at the Homeless Plan with strategies, believed the City is a model in the South Bay helping the homeless, and said this is just a first step as transitional housing. He supported more affordable and permanent housing in the City, and said the measurable goal is to continue to help people, noted concerns with stress and anxiety taking place right now, reviewed the statistics of the homeless, reviewed Project Room Key and the process to get people to accept services, and did not see this item as a rush which is an emergency and need. He also noted a team effort and working on a regional level, and all the cities are trying to work on this issue. He further noted the enhanced pilot project and helping people in one location will help expedite a more permanent situation. He said staff is constantly looking for funding sources for the homeless and pointed out that the programs and strategies have a direct impact on the quality of life for the residents. He referred to the Seaside Lagoon which is an interesting suggestion, and said he didn't have an issue with Moonstone Park or Kingsdale. He supported having something in both North and South Redondo, and believed if it is managed right, there will not be a problem. He believed that Moonstone Park has been underutilized for some time and supported this 13-month plan moving forward tonight.

Councilmember Gran said that something needs to be done, suggested a compromise or setting up the program so that it is successful, having the ability to take care of any variables, taking this as a proof of concept and that it works. He suggested looking at this in two different phases to include handling the residents coming out of Project Room Key, consider the Seaside Lagoon site for six months, consider the Kingsdale site, and a six month start of the program.

Public Works Director Semaan stated the site grades are not amenable at Kingsdale and there is no access available onto the site.

Councilmember Nehrenheim summarized Moonstone Park which is an actual cost and directly on the water, and stated the pallets would not be protective enough with the elements and weather. He also said Moonstone Park is a helicopter landing pad and LA County Fire Department uses it all the time. He also pointed out that there are no grocery stores close by for people with Cal Cards. He stated the Kingsdale location has great access to freeways and other service locations and suggested looking at Dominguez Park near the Public Works Yard which is away from residential. He also pointed out that the City is spending $700K on the project voluntarily and being proactive.

Councilmember Emdee stated Dominguez Park is right by residential and noted Moonstone Park is a mile away from residential but questioned if the pallet housing would be able to withstand the weather. She said the waterfront areas won't be as impactful right now due to COVID for six months which can be moved over to Kingsdale over the second seven months. She also said Kingsdale is close to residential.

City Attorney Webb stated four votes will be needed to allow for a budget modification.

Councilmember Horvath asked how the locations were chosen. Public Works Director Semaan stated sites were being considered that were readily available with minimal prep work.

Councilmember Loewenstein expressed concern with impacts to the liveaboard residents in the harbor from Moonstone Park. He also pointed out that the Kingsdale site borders on a railroad track and cemetery and houses are out of view and suggested it be considered.

Councilmember Nehrenheim stated this is not a wedge issue between North and South Redondo and said it is impossible to find a location that is out of sight, out of mind. He expressed concern with homeless people living on the street in both North and South Redondo and supported creating a good location that is the least impactful to the residential. He did not support Moonstone Park as being an appropriate site location due to lack of available services and the weather elements, and supported Kingsdale being a good location.

Councilmember Horvath pointed out that wedge issue is heard a lot from the North Redondo residents, agreed that Moonstone Park elements would be impactful, and supported the compromised approach but also supported a 4-1 or 5-0 tonight.

Councilmember Gran stated the motion is a compromise and stated there is nothing going on at the Seaside Lagoon currently for the first six months, and supported getting the program running and started.

Mayor Brand opposed Moonstone Park as a consideration which is busy with residents and activities and the weather is bad. He stated using the Seaside Lagoon for six months would foreclose on many items with impacts to the hotels and residents. He also believed the Verizon site is the best spot which is more of an industrial area.

Motion by Loewenstein, seconded by Councilmember Nehrenheim, to consider the Kingsdale location near Verizon for the first six months and consider new sites after six months or terminate the program.

Amended Motion by Councilmember Gran, seconded by Emdee, to designate the Seaside Lagoon for the first six months of the program and Kingsdale as the second seven months.

Amended Motion failed with the following roll call vote:

AYES: Gran, Emdee
NOES: Nehrenheim, Loewenstein, Horvath

Councilmember Loewenstein noted concerns regarding Moonstone Park.

Councilmember Gran supported a compromise but stated the motion is backwards, and suggested supporting a facility in the harbor area first since the City is currently under lockdown.

Councilmember Horvath believed the best site all around is Kingsdale but expressed concern with an abrupt halt in six months and believed that 13 months would have a much more dramatic effect.

City Manager Hoefgen stated there is no funding available to move the facility at this time.

Motion by Councilmember Emdee, seconded by Councilmember Nehrenheim, to have the facility for six months at Kingsdale and then move it to Moonstone Park for six months and if it can't be moved, to shut the program down. Motion carried unanimously, with the following roll call vote:
